

Introducing myCoreSourceWire

A new way to take charge of your benefits

One of the best ways to get and stay healthy and keep your healthcare costs down is by regularly using your health benefits. But health plans can be confusing, and you might not always know all the resources available to you. We have a new way to help.

We're introducing myCoreSourceWire, a new digital communication tool that connects with you in the ways you prefer to help you get the most out of your benefits.

Through myCoreSourceWire we can send you personalized messages about:

Reminders about scheduling important doctor's appointments and tests

Cost-effective Rx tips

Info to help you understand your HSA or flex account

Tools to help you save money by shopping around for care

And much more!

To join myCoreSourceWire, just use your mobile phone to call the activation number with your new ID card. Then log on to myCoreSource.com and choose your communication preferences. Fast, easy, and personalized for you.

If you have questions, please call the number located at the top of your ID card.
